

Library of
The University of North Carolina

COLLECTION OF
NORTH CAROLINIANA

ENDOWED BY JOHN SPRUNT HILL
of the class of 1889

C 378-UT2

1914-15
V. 3

This book must not be taken from the Library building.

--	--	--	--

the library
VOLUME III

THE

NUMBER 1

ALUMNI REVIEW

OCTOBER, 1914

OPINION AND COMMENT

The 120th Opening—The Growth of the University—University
Day—One Thing You Can Do—Another Opportunity—
University Houses

THE UNIVERSITY OPENS

The One Hundred and Twentieth Year Begins With Close to 1,000 Students Present

THE TRUSTEES OUTLINE A FORWARD-LOOK- ING POLICY

ATHLETICS

Carolina Shows the Results of Summer Camp Practice and Good Coaching

UNIV. OF NORTH CAROLINA

W. C. C. V. R. T. S. DEL. 1912.

PUBLISHED BY THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Maximum of Service to the People of the State

- A. THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS.
- B. THE SCHOOL OF APPLIED SCIENCE.
 - (1) Chemical Engineering.
 - (2) Electrical Engineering.
 - (3) Civil and Road Engineering.
 - (4) Soil Investigation.
- C. THE GRADUATE SCHOOL.
- D. THE SCHOOL OF LAW.
- E. THE SCHOOL OF MEDICINE.
- F. THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY.
- G. THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION.
- H. THE SUMMER SCHOOL.
- I. THE BUREAU OF EXTENSION.
 - (1) General Information.
 - (2) Instruction by Lectures.
 - (3) Correspondence Courses.
 - (4) Debate and Declamation.
 - (5) County Economic and Social Surveys.
 - (6) Municipal and Legislative Reference.
 - (7) Teachers' Bureau, Preparatory Schools and College Entrance Requirements.

WRITE TO THE UNIVERSITY WHEN YOU NEED HELP

For information regarding the University, address

THOS. J. WILSON, JR., Registrar.

Mr. and Mrs. Society Folk announce the marriage of their daughter Artistic Engraving
to
Mr. Correct Style
at the office of The Seeman Printery
Durham, N. C.

At Home
all the year 'round
110-112 Corcoran Street

THE ALUMNI REVIEW

Volume III

OCTOBER, 1914

Number 1

OPINION AND COMMENT

THE 120TH OPENING

The 120th session of the University opened September 10th with every sign pointing to a year of unprecedented achievement.

The significance of the opening does not lie wholly in the number of students by which it was signalized, however great the importance of that may be, but in something finer and more fundamental—the spirit of the men who make up the University.

THE REVIEW makes no attempt to analyze this spirit, but it could not, even if it were to shut its eyes, fail to note its expression in a constantly increasing number of ways. The new men have been allowed to go about their duties in peace, the old men have taken up their work in earnest, the newspaper representatives have been alert to report the serious work of the University to the people back home, the county clubs have enrolled in the North Carolina Club for service, the Y. M. C. A. has accepted the opportunity of calling old and new men alike to the cultivation of their better selves, and the faculty, to repeat the sentiment expressed by Dean Staey and President Graham on the occasion of the formal opening, is earnest in its efforts to help the students make men of themselves—men of fine ideals and the widest vision possible.

Although the complete details of registration have not been worked out, a decided increase in numbers in all departments is apparent and the scholarship of the new men, so far as can be ascertained, is comparatively high. All professional departments have record numbers and the graduate school, which last year enrolled 42 members (the highest number previously being 28), starts the year with 57. The total in all departments on September 30th was 971, or 115 more than on the same date last year and 85 more than the total enrollment (886) of 1913-14. The 1000 mark, will, in all probability, be reached before the close of the year.

THE GROWTH OF THE UNIVERSITY

These evidences of growth justify a brief recounting of the development of the University in recent years and show what, if all work for its up-building, the University of the future may be. From 1900 to 1914 the number of students increased from 512 to 886; summer school students, from 161 to 595; members of the faculty, from 35 to 87; other officers, from 5 to 13; buildings, from 10 to 24; courses offered, from 111 to 344. Likewise the value of buildings and equipment grew from $360,000 to $1,094,500 and the endowment from $131,200 to $232,775. The graduate school and the schools of applied science and education assumed definite organization and the University reached the point where it could begin to extend its service beyond the walls of the campus.

With this foundation to build upon, with the spirit of optimism and serious endeavor surcharging the whole University, the advance of alma mater should, and must, be steadily onward and upward.

UNIVERSITY DAY University Day is but a few days off. Quickened by its return and the story of the University's splendid opening, the thought of every alumnus turns back to the Hill. In order that this thoughtfulness may be productive of something beneficial, that it may add to the constructive program of the University, on University Day let every alumnus and every gathering of local associations formulate plans for co-operating with the University in carrying out its great work. The committee on alumni organization offers the following suggestions:

During the coming year the large policies undertaken last year will be vigorously continued and developed, to the end that every pound of power possible to an institution of learning may be put into full service. We know that we cannot have the great and greatly useful University we want to have unless you are steadily working with us, and we know that you are wholeheartedly ready to make 1914-15 notable in University history through your sympathy, encouragement and co-operation.

What form this shall take, this alumni committee does not suggest. We urge, only, that you hold a meeting on Saturday night, October 10th, or Monday, October 12th, for the purpose of kindling loyalty and enthusiasm, and of discussing particular ways and means of rendering assistance in the critical days ahead, and of making the local association a vital part of the University organization.

Put the meeting on a big constructive basis and let every gathering contribute some idea and develop some plan of co-operating with the University directly, or of serving the local community. Do not postpone the meeting, but let every association, and every group of alumni, wherever two or three can be gathered together, hold a meeting—and “put a punch in it.”

□ □ □

ONE THING YOU CAN DO Have you ever heard the comment “nothing appears in the State press about the University except athletic notices?” THE REVIEW has, and recently, and by a prominent alumnus who was not antagonistic to athletics. Of course the comment is fundamentally incorrect as anyone can determine for himself by clipping his daily for a month. He will find that the press, from many points of view, is really generous of space and that a great deal appears in print that relates to the serious, fundamental work of the University.

But there is foundation for the comment, and the important question is, what is to be done about it? The obvious answer is move to town where the backing of a city press can be secured, scatter advertisements widely throughout the State, and put a publicity man to work seven days in the week. This is all very good but it cannot be done.

The real remedy lies with the alumni. Can you figure it out? An alumnus in Charlotte did a few years ago and did it most successfully. The Y. M. C. A. here had issued a splendid report of its campus activities. This alumnus called in the reporter of the morning daily and gave him the Y. M. C. A. story in an interesting interview. North Carolina found out next morning what the University Y. M. C. A. was doing and—that it was doing an unusually fine work. Another instance is that of a teacher who attended the Summer School. On her return home she gave the local weekly a column article on the service which the University offered the teachers of the county, the result of which was an increased attendance from her county at the Summer School the following year.

University Day is to be celebrated on the 12th. There are enough University men in every town in the State to make their observance of the day a matter of news value to the local paper. See that a story of the celebration gets into print. Go further and indicate some of the contributions the University has made to the county. Add a paragraph about the service it stands ready to give the public every day. And do this several times a year! Let the editor do the blue penciling. That is his work—yours to give him the opportunity.

□ □ □

ANOTHER OPPORTUNITY Do you really want the University to get in touch back home?

If so, the opportunity is to be found in the celebration of Community Service Week, December 3, 4, and 5, during which every community in the State, however small and remote, is to be brought face to face with the question of its development and upbuilding. Again the opportunity lies—with the University—but especially with the alumni.

The idea, in large part, back of this movement, is that suggested by President Graham at the Mecklenburg County Conference last fall. It is one for which many University men have worked during the year. It is one in direct line with the activities of the Bureau of Extension and the North Carolina (formerly County) Club. It is an idea which gives the intelligence and wide sympathy of University men opportunity for large and useful expression.

Hearty co-operation, intelligent leadership, straightforward, honest effort during these special days to bring worthy things to pass, are the things which will count in giving the University touch if University men will seize the opportunity. In this far-reaching movement for the upbuilding of a Greater North Carolina, the alumni are the University's local representatives. It expects a good account of them.

□ □ □

UNIVERSITY HOUSES One of the limitations which the faculty experiences annually is that of proper living quarters.

This year has proven no exception to the rule and new members of the faculty are finding rooms wherever they can.

That this works to the disadvantage of the University, goes without question. The fact that men cannot find comfortable homes frequently makes it impossible for the University to secure them. In every instance it adds to the disadvantages under which they have to carry on their work.

The simple and natural method of changing this condition is for the University to build a number of faculty houses on University property for rent or adopt a lease system by which a professor can build on University land and can hold his house while he continues in the employ of the University. Both of these plans are in successful operation in many colleges today and one or both should be adopted by the University.

THE UNIVERSITY OPENS

The One Hundred and Twentieth Year Begins With Close to 1,000 Students Present

Eclipsing the University's banner attendance year at a corresponding date by one hundred men, with the new Swain Dining Hall in full swing, the football team running signals in advance, and with an orderly welcome to the three hundred new men, the college year opened with high promise of inward growth and expanding service. The registration has totaled 971. All departments have record numbers. Under the high walls of Swain Hall, colored soft to the eye, four hundred and forty-three students gather at forty tables to enjoy doubly the food, plenteous as the desire, and the spirit of the crowd, democratic the room around. Out on the athletic field over three score men survived the coaches' "can" and the summer camp veterans early exhibited seasoned form. The over-lording shout of the sophomore Comanches was missing among the sounds of unloaded baggage, dormitory settlement, and youthful welcome.

The University was formally opened Thursday, September 10th, at noon in Memorial Hall. One thousand people were present for the occasion. On the platform were ex-President Battle, the president, and the deans of the seven schools. Rev. W. D. Moss opened with prayer and Mr. C. T. Woollen led the student body in singing the University Hymn.

Dean Stacy explained the regulations of college concerning class attendance, absences, and deficiencies. He lifted these matters of college regulations into the high place of co-operative unity between faculty and students. He illustrated his thought by words of a mountain mother who had with real insight defined the place of the faculty in college government. These were her words, "Mr. Stacy, I want you to help my boy make a man out of himself." The large body of boys in Memorial Hall responded to this mother's definition of a teacher's mission as it came forth touched with the eloquence of the genuine-hearted dean.

President Graham in his address struck the year's keynote, sounding of high thought and inspirational with the widening vision of social ministry. He commended the individual backyard cleaning for which Vice-President Marshall stands but called upon the University man to look out beyond his own yard and see that the road that passes by his door leads to the end of the world.

The war has made America feel its intimate business relation and kinship with the world. The fact that people in North Carolina feel the blight of the war in Europe will help to bring in the brotherhood of man. America faces civilization's greatest responsibility and greatest opportunity. The college man is determining now by his work the place he will take in this situation, unparalleled for its responsibility and opportunity.

As he spiritualized the grind of the tasks ahead, he counseled the men, with characteristic insight, not to permit the opening vision of the year to be broken to pieces on the routine of the day.

Thursday night the Young Men's Christian Association continued its work in helping the new men to get their bearings by holding College Night in the Chapel and a reception in the Library. In a rousing meeting in the Chapel student leaders presented the college activities to the new men with the urgent counsel to get into the developmental currents of a rounded college life. George W. Eutsler, president of the Senior Class, presented student government and the spirit of the honor system; Frank Haekler, the literary societies and the value of debating; Walter P. Fuller, the various student publications; J. M. Cox, dramatics; T. C. Boushall, the work of the Young Men's Christian Association; and Philip Woolcott, athletics. These men personally represent high achievement in scholarship, debate, dramatics, athletics, journalism, and social service, and spoke to the new men with zeal for a cause.

Walter Stokes, of Nashville, president of the Class of 1913, back on a visit, presided over the meeting with his old time ginger. Jim Pritchett, ex-cheer leader, drew forth volumes of noise. Coach Trenchard made an enthusiastic speech, calling the men to come out for the football squad. The meeting adjourned for the reception in the Library.

The Library, converted into a forest of green by the boughs of dogwood, pine, and cedar, attractively welcomed the new men into University life. White and blue bunting was stretched overhead and wound up the stairway. Singing, piano and victrola music, and an occasional mandolin tune enlivened the hall—with its seven or eight hundred people. The freshmen mingled in the crowd and had a good time. And anon in serried ranks they charged the allied freezers entrenched behind long tables of white and by repeated attacks captured the entire twenty gallons.

Dr. C. L. Raper taught Economics in the Summer School of the University of Tennessee, at Knoxville.

THE TRUSTEES OUTLINE A FORWARD-LOOKING POLICY

The board of Trustees at its June meeting not only transacted the ordinary business incident to the government of the University, but by adopting the report of the visiting committee, went on record for an active, constructive, forward-looking policy for alumnus mater.

The report, which contained an exhaustive analysis of conditions obtaining in the University, devoted special attention to the critical financial situation of the University, quoting almost in their entirety the editorials of THE REVIEW which appeared in the May number, and agreeing absolutely with the conclusion reached by THE REVIEW that a definite, well considered plan must be devised and put into operation if the University is to maintain the high position which it has formerly held.

Space requirements make it impossible to print the whole report here, but the following excerpts are such as to demand inclusion in this number. Under specific heads, they refer to the various findings of the committee.

CONDITION OF BUILDINGS

Upon examination of the buildings we found their physical condition to be as good, perhaps, as could be expected, considering the age of many of them and the small amount of money available for their improvement and repairs. Nevertheless some of the older buildings, notably the Old West, New West, New East and University Inn, are in such bad condition that tenants cannot be had for many of the rooms in them. Students to whom these rooms are rented, as soon as cold weather sets in, ask to be transferred to other rooms or have their money refunded because they cannot keep warm in rooms which have window sashes so rotten that glass cannot be kept in them. The roof of the University Inn is in such bad condition that 8 rooms have been unavailable for use during the present session. All this, of course, results in a loss of income to the University.

STUDENT BODY

We were especially gratified with the spirit which seemed to pervade the life and work of the student body. From all sources we had nothing but good reports of the general conduct of the student body during the past year.

The dominant spirit among the students has been one of co-operation and constructive service. The students have inaugurated and carried into execution constructive work of large significance. We can merely mention, as among the most important features of it, the conduct of Sunday schools and night schools for negroes, extension work on sanitation among the negroes of Chapel Hill, the organization of corn clubs and tomato clubs and Sunday schools among the country people in the vicinity of Chapel Hill, and the organization of the county clubs for the study of the home communities of the students. This work has been undertaken and carried through solely by students and is illustrative of the spirit of service that prevails in the University.

THE FACULTY

There has evidently been most hearty and cordial co-operation and team-work on the part of the faculty. We were impressed with the unselfish devotion and spirit of service which seems to pervade the faculty, and we feel that if the Trustees, as a body, could realize the work which is being done by the members of the faculty under certain disadvantages for lack of proper quarters and equipment, they would not rest satisfied until they had done something to relieve the situation. We do not believe that the Trustees of the University, and the State at large, realize how much the members of the faculty are doing in spite of conditions which ought not to exist. In our interviews with them, they all seemed to us to be imbued with a spirit of loyalty and devotion to the University and its work, and at no time did we detect the slightest note of selfishness. Every request they made was for better conditions and equipment with which to do their work. Work of a very high order is being done by members of the faculty which brings great credit to the University and to the State, and has placed the University among the four leading universities of the South. This position, we are convinced, is due rather to the hard, unselfish labor of the members of the faculty, under adverse circumstances and with inadequate equipment, than to the liberality of the State in its support of the University.

THE LAW BUILDING, FORMERLY THE LIBRARY

IMPROVEMENT AND DEVELOPMENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

In our opinion the time has come for us to stop boasting about the past history of the University; to stop excusing our deficiencies by pleading the poverty of the State of North Carolina; to quit scheming as to how little the University can get along with; and to arouse ourselves to a realization of the fine work now being done, the splendid visions animating those who are making our University what it is, and the unlimited possibilities which would flow from a realization of these visions for the education and culture of all the people of our State. But we must realize, and make all others realize, that these things cannot be without the adequate and necessary support of the State.

The alumni of our University and even our Trustees, have too long adopted an apologetic attitude. We do not believe there is anything which a citizen of this State should apologize for in connection with our University, except the meager support which it has been given. The time has come for us to consult our hopes and not our fears; for the University to cease to be passive and to become aggressive in its leadership. The people of North Carolina are looking eagerly for just such intelligent leadership as the University, and the University alone, is able to give, and the experience of the present year demonstrates how gladly they will welcome it. We ought to be forward-looking, to study the University in terms of the needs of the State, to formulate a large and definite plan for its future development so that we may have a certain, well-defined end to which to work, and in all our work adhere strictly to that plan. We ought to have for our own guidance well-thought out plans of the Greater State-Wide University, of fifty, even a hundred years hence, with the whole State for its campus and every citizen of the State for a member of its student body, and we ought to familiarize the people of the State with our plans, our hopes and our ambitions.

CONCLUSION

In conclusion we desire to say that we have purposely omitted from this report many details about the University, interesting indeed, but of secondary importance, in order that we might as far as possible concentrate your attention on those things that we consider vital to the welfare of the institution. We believe that every effort ought to be made:

1st. To encourage and stimulate the fine spirit of harmony and co-operation in the faculty, in the student body, and between the faculty and students that has so emphatically characterized recent University progress.

2nd. To secure for the University an adequate income for its present needs.

3rd. To equip the several departments of the University thoroughly in order that the members of the faculty and students may have at their service the best tools for their work afforded by modern education.

4th. To strengthen and develop to its fullest extent the work of the Bureau of Extension in order that the University may become in reality a State-wide University in its service to the people of North Carolina.

STUDENT ADVISORS

Last year the University made the experiment of designating a member of the faculty as advisor to a group of from five to ten freshmen with the hope of enabling the new men to go about their work intelligently and of cutting down the number of those who fail to return for their second year's work.

Figures at present are not sufficiently available to justify specific deductions, but the preponderance of evidence seems to be that in many respects the plan has worked admirably. Last year a number of the new men were properly directed in the matter of removing their conditions and in "finding" themselves in the University. This fact alone saved a number to the present enrollment. Others, upon their return this year, felt that they had some one to whom they could go for personal advice in the election of courses. In still other cases advice has been given as to the number of hours which could well be carried, and in all cases there has been a distinct gain due to the fact that last year a personal relation was established which was helpful then and is cumulatively so this. The plan has been continued for 1914-15 and will doubtless be made permanent.

ATHLETICS

Carolina Shows the Results of Summer Camp Practice and Good Coaching

THE KANUGA TRAINING CAMP

The Kanuga training camp proved to be a highly successful venture. Through the fine spirit of Mr. George Stephens, the father of the Kanuga idea, the beautiful grounds about Kanuga Lake and a convenient club house were at the disposal of the University football squad for summer drill. Head Coach Trenchard pushed the plan through to success. Twenty candidates for the team went into thorough training at Kanuga during the month of August. Coach Cunningham, special coach of the backfield, was present for the closing week of practice. The morning was given to bathing, rowing and fishing. On the part of the delinquents three hours of the morning was given to hard study. The hour after dinner was devoted to a study of the rules. The afternoon between three and six was spent in practical football, such as passing the ball, punting, catching punts, drop-kicking, tackling, and running signals.

Eight of the 'varsity went into training at Kanuga: Capt. Tayloe, Fuller, Cowell, Tandy, Jones, Ramsay, Foust, and Allen. Others there for training were Mebane Long, Bourne, Hines, Bridges, Blades, Webb, Arenson, Hamby, Klingman, Black, and Grimsley. Norman Vann, '14, and Charlie Cowell, '12, held coaching classes in science and mathematics.

The summer camp has given the squad a good two weeks' start.

THE COACHES

The coaching staff is made up of Head Coach Trenchard, Arthur Bluethenthal and Logan Cunningham. Trenchard will have charge of the ends, Bluethenthal, the line, and Cunningham, the backfield. These men are pre-eminent in their departments of the game. Trenchard still stands out as one of the greatest ends Princeton has produced, making the all-time all-American eleven. Bluethenthal, a Wilmington boy, was the all-American centre on Princeton's championship team and later coach of the line. Cunningham, from Washington City, was a famous Princeton full-back in 1908 and 1909 and backfield coach in '10 and '11. Tol Pendleton was one of his products. Trenchard, Wilson and Pendleton planted the Princeton system here last year, ploughing deep for the future. Bluethenthal and Cunningham, with faith in this system of Old Nassau, mean to make it bring forth its natural yield of a splendid machine, asking and giving no odds or quarter—only the sportman's chance.

ATHLETIC JOTTINGS

Tom Wilson is head line coach at the University of Wisconsin. Tol Pendleton is awaiting the end of the Mexican trouble to take an important business position in Mexico.

While "Shag" Thompson was back on the Hill registering for his senior course in the University, his clubmates, such as the $100,000 infield and sometimes Bender and Plank, were coining his world series rakeoff. Thompson has been Mack's understudy, watchful and waiting, on the bench. Once or twice he broke into print by his hitting and fielding.

Duncan, ex-'11, is one of the star outfielders in the Federal Circuit. He is rightfielder on the strong Baltimore team.

COACHES TRENCHARD, BLUETHENTHAL, CUNNINGHAM AND CAPTAIN TAYLOE

CAROLINA 41, RICHMOND COLLEGE 0

Carolina opened the football season on the home field Saturday, September 26th, by smothering Richmond College with the heavy score of 41 to 0. The summer training bore early fruit in the team's aggressive offense. Bridges, the freshman quarterback, showed promising qualities of generalship and threw the forward pass with bullet accuracy. Tandy at center played up and down the line with nimble effectiveness. Fuller showed seasoned form in the backfield. Carolina used twenty-seven men.

LINE-UP

CAROLINA	POSITION	RICHMOND COLLEGE
Homewood, Grimesley.....	R. E.	Cosby, Tolliver
Gay, Tennent.....	R. T.	Durham, Carter
Jones, F. C., Tayloe.....	R. G.	Carter, Woody
Tandy, Pritchett.....	C.	Craven, Wicker
Cowell, Foust.....	L. G.	McNeill, Coburn
Ramsey, Jones, J.....	L. T.	Coburn, Carter
Long, Nicholson.....	L. E.	Prevatt, Goode
Bridges, Allen, Valley, Fore.....	Q.	Pitt, Ancarrow
Fuller, Burnett.....	R. H.	Bruce, Logan
Tayloe, Hines.....	L. H.	Wicker, Pollard
Parker, Erwin, Reid, Pope.....	F.	Hubbel, Pollard

Time of quarter, 12 minutes; referee, Kluttz; umpire, Henderson; head lineman, W. E. Daniels, Jr.

THE HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL CONTEST WILL BE CONTINUED

The State championship contest in high school football which was successfully inaugurated last year at the University will be continued this fall. The prospects are that there will be a great deal of interest taken throughout the State in the coming high school games.

Every football team representing a public high school, city or rural, which shall have played and won up to and including Nov. 14th, as many as three games from schools of similar rank and shall have lost none, shall be eligible to enter the preliminary contest for the championship. Immediately after Nov. 14th the committee at Chapel Hill in consultation with the different managers and coaches will arrange preliminary contests for the purpose of selecting through a process of elimination two teams which shall come to the University for the championship game. To the team which wins out finally a handsome cup will be awarded.

In the event that a team has played an unusually hard schedule the committee reserves the right to waive the letter of the requirement mentioned above and admit it to the preliminary contest, provided it shall have won seventy-five per cent of the games played.

The Raleigh high school team won the championship in the contest in 1913. The championship will be warmly striven for this year by teams from Raleigh, Goldsboro, Asheville, Charlotte, Shelby, Huntersville, Gastonia, Winston-Salem, High Point, Greensboro, Reidsville, Kinston, New Bern, Wilmington, Washington, Elizabeth City.

The committee having charge of the contest at the University is composed of N. W. Walker, T. G. Trenchard, E. R. Rankin and C. E. Ervin. The expenses of carrying on the contest will be raised by the sale of tickets for the championship game.

COME TO THE PALMETTO-PINE TUG

October the twelfth will be full of interest both to the students and the alumni. In the morning will be celebrated the one hundred and twentieth anniversary of the founding of the University. Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, will deliver the principal address. In the afternoon South Carolina and North Carolina will have a Palmetto-Pine tug on the football field. This annual game is always interesting and was placed on University Day for the sake of the student body and the alumni who might come in for the holiday and its celebration.

THE FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

September 26—Richmond College, Chapel Hill.
 October 3—Virginia Medical, Chapel Hill.
 October 8—Wake Forest, Durham.
 October 12—South Carolina, Chapel Hill.
 October 17—Georgia, Atlanta.
 October 24—Vanderbilt, Nashville.
 October 31—Davidson, Winston.
 November 7—V. M. I., Charlotte.
 November 14—Wake Forest, Raleigh.
 November 26—Virginia, Richmond.

This schedule includes games with three of the strongest teams in the South, Georgia, Vanderbilt, and Virginia. These games were placed so that Carolina will strike her most formidable opponents at top speed. In spite of all the stories of gloom which emanated from Charlottesville, Virginia has recouped herself wonderfully. The two Rhodes scholars, including ex-Captain Gooch, did not go to Oxford but have returned to their places on the Virginia team.

CAPTAIN TAYLOE CARRING THE BALL OVER

A SCRIMMAGE IN THE RICHMOND COLLEGE GAME

It was a pretty game in Richmond last year. It will be a prettier game this year. The raw and youthful eleven of last year cleanly pieced into a double-shifting fighting engine is fast developing the veteran's steel for the strain of Georgia, Vanderbilt, and Virginia. Carolina looks through the schedule breast forward with confident hope.

Attention Alumni! For the game nearest at hand with South Carolina, come over to the sidelines and help us—October 12.

CAROLINA MEETS WAKE FOREST IN DURHAM

Carolina and Wake Forest will play a football game in Durham on Thursday, October 8th. This game, arranged for within the last few days, will be a big feature of Durham County's fair. It is being well advertised by the fair company and the electric car system, and the crowd present at the game will probably be a record one for a mid-season game in North Carolina.

Among the alumni back on the Hill for the Carolina-Richmond College game were John N. Wilson and President J. I. Foust, of Greensboro; J. H. Boushall, Francis Cox, Dr. W. P. JACOBS, W. H. Pace, Chas. Johnson, Jr., G. B. Phillips, Wm. Boylan, Judge J. S. Manning, George Thomas, Sam Farabee, of Raleigh; Dr. Foy Roberson, G. M. Graham, A. H. Wolfe, Dr. John Carr, J. L. Morehead, J. S. Manning, Jr., of Durham; J. C. Lanier, of Greenville; T. H. May, of Wendell; A. H. Graham, of Hillsboro; J. J. Henderson, of Mebane; Connor Allen, of Goldsboro; F. L. Foust, of Pleasant Garden.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL GROWS

However judged, the Summer School of 1914 stands out as by far the most successful of the sessions since its beginning in 1877. A total of 596 students—154 men and 442 women—was enrolled, and every college, school, and community in the State was in some way represented on the campus.

If special features of the work were to be singled out possibly none, apart from the steady, constant work of the students exceeded in importance the activities comprised under the head of Rural Life Week and the pageants presented on the Fourth of July. Under the direction of Prof. Branson, of the University, and Dr. Liberty Hyde Bailey, of Cornell, a series of conferences on rural life was conducted extending over a period of three days and enlisting the presence and interest of the entire student body and many visitors from the State. The problems of tenant farming, of the rural school, of the country church, of intensive cultivation of the soil, etc., were discussed in a frank, earnest manner and by persons who were studying them from every possible angle. Among the visitors who participated in the conference, in addition to the members of the faculty, were Dr. H. Q. Alexander, president of the Farmers' Union; Maj. W. A. Graham, commissioner of agriculture; Dr. T. E. Browne, director of the Boy's Corn Club work; Dr. C. R. Hudson, director of Farm Demonstration work; Prof. K. C. McIntyre, of the Nash County Farm Life School; Prof. J. E. Coletrane, of the Jamestown Farm Life School; Dr. Turlington, of the Craven County Farm Life School; and many superintendents, assistant superintendents and principals of city and country schools from the entire State. The value of the conference was so pronounced that its continuance in the future was unanimously requested.

For three years the Fourth of July has been beautifully celebrated on the campus. This year eight colleges presented pageants representing episodes in the history of the State. Meredith College appeared in three tableaux—the three seals of North Carolina. Oxford College re-enacted a Ku Klux Klan meeting. The State Normal called back by means of perfectly staged pictures the incidents of the Civil War, while Salem and Guilford re-enacted striking incidents in their history. It remained for Davenport, with only six representatives, and the University, with a half hundred, to carry off the honors with a triple romance centering around Daniel Boone and two of his pioneer companions and a spirited burlesque of the Niagra Mediation Conference.

The real big things of the school were, however, just what they should have been—its fine spirit and hard work. The presence of nearly 100 students pursuing regular University courses for credit and of several hundred others preparing for special positions and for the various state certificates, insured serious, straightforward work throughout the student body. Their example was steadying in its effect and the work done during the term, especially in the credit courses, abundantly justified the offering of the courses and their further extension in the future.

Plans for next year have not been definitely decided upon but every effort will be made to connect the school vitally with the State's school system in every one of its branches. No part of the University can be more effective in serving the State than the Summer School, and it is the purpose of the authorities to make it as thoroughly effective as possible.

EXTENSION SERIES BULLETIN NO. 8

The story of what Catawba county farmers have done with their Co-operative Creamery, their Sweet Potato Growers' Association, their Farmers' Union Warehouse, and Co-operative Rural Credit Association, told by Richard H. Shuford, of Hickory, a member of the Graduate School of the University last year, makes up the content of Extension Series Bulletin No. 8, which was issued in a 5,000 edition in early July.

Three points of interest appear in this publication. The bulletin is typical of a new style of graduating or master's thesis required of University students, in some departments. Possibly more than 100 men last year made special investigations of local North Carolina industries and conditions. This story is especially interesting because it is the record of the first attempt on the part of the farmers of a North Carolina county to carry out simple co-operative principles on a large, far-reaching scale. The most significant feature—the third—is that the University is beginning in this way to reach the people back home with information which is fundamental to the correct economic and social development of the State.

Since the bulletin has been issued three very gratifying requests have been received concerning its employment. The first was that 50 copies should be placed in the hands of the leading farmers of Craven county to serve as the incentive and guide for similar activities in that county. This request came through a trustee of the University. The second was a similar request from Hertford. The third was different. Recently a county conference was held in Watauga. A definite organization was perfected for the economic and social development of the county. A half dozen Carolina men are on the steering committee and are attempting to bring things to pass. They want this particular bulletin in the hands of the farmers of the county for the double purpose of giving specific information and of showing the people that the University can be a direct power for good in every community in the county.

Another fact worthy of conspicuous mention is that an alumnus trustee furnished the check which enabled the Bureau of Extension to print the 5,000 copies.

THE BUREAU OF EXTENSION PLANS A FULL PROGRAM OF WORK

The Bureau of Extension has been maturing plans for an aggressive year's work, the details of which its various departments are already getting well under way.

The most important development to date has been the securing of a definite place in the budget with something in the treasury to check against. This has made it possible to settle E. R. Rankin, Assistant Director, in an office in Peabody Hall and to open headquarters, with stenographer, office equipment, and other accessories for definite, hard work.

Plans for the year include the further development of the Debating Union under Mr. Rankin; the enlargement of the scope of the correspondence courses under Dr. L. A. Williams; the continuance of the legislative and municipal reference service under Drs. Raper and Hamilton; and the wider use of library loans and extension lectures under Dr. L. R. Wilson.

Other lines of work which hitherto have received limited attention, but which in the future are to be stressed are the making of definite, first hand studies of economic and social conditions prevailing in North Carolina, through the County Clubs, under Prof. E. C. Branson; the supplying of teachers through a teachers' bureau under Dr. H. W. Chase; and the issuing of special helps for North Carolina teachers through the School of Education.

The Extension Bulletin series, of which eight numbers have appeared to date, will be continued and will be supplemented by the addition of letter and study outline series to be employed extensively in the correspondence courses and in the work which the School of Education carries on in behalf of teachers.

SWAIN HALL SEES REGULAR SERVICE

Swain Hall, which saw service for the first time on Alumni Day in June, has since that hour of happy banqueting gone regularly into commission and is now in constant and entirely satisfactory use. Incidentally it is, along with the Literary Societies, one of the University's principal agencies in the building up of a fine democracy on the campus.

During the Summer School it accommodated four hundred students, and though somewhat handicapped on account of incomplete equipment, gave remarkable satisfaction. Since the beginning of the present term, with the installation of the new oven and the completed equipment, it is taking care of four hundred and fifty men daily and everywhere is spoken of in praise.

The building represents a total expenditure of $55,000 of which $40,000 went for the building and $15,000 for equipment. The main dining room has a present capacity of from 400 to 600 people, is equipped with solid, substantial chairs and tables, is thoroughly screened, and will be heated with hot water or steam from the central heating plant.

The kitchen is thoroughly equipped with modern furnishings, and by means of the extensive employment of steam, is able to meet with great satisfaction the varied demands made upon it. Since the close of the Summer School an oven and complete bakery have been installed, and the refrigerating and ice making plant have been put into regular operation.

The price fixed for board, has, on account of the extremely high prices of foodstuffs, been placed at $12.50 per month, an advance of $1.50 per month over that of last year.

THE FILTER PLANT IS COMPLETED

Can you imagine it? No longer does "Bill" McDade, or "Short Bill" Jones, or "Horny Handed Henry," or any other of the band of immortals break into the early morning sleep of the roomers in the South, the Old East, and the Old West, etc., to fill the empty pitchers on the washstands with the crystal waters from the old "well." The orders have gone forth that those worthies, their successors, and assigns are not to report for duty until 7:00 a. m., and are then to fill the pitchers not from the pump or the open bucket, but from a spigot located at a convenient spot in each corridor.

The meaning of all this is that the filter plant, which has been in process of construction for nearly an entire year, has been completed and is now giving the college and the town a water service that promises to be wholly satisfactory.

INTERIOR VIEW OF THE NEW DINING HALL

That this greatly needed plant has been completed is cause for genuine congratulation on the part of the University. It simplifies tremendously the service to the students in the dormitories and it makes for the health of the entire community.

This, of course, is the big outstanding service it will afford—protection from the risk of typhoid and other diseases which are contracted through the use of impure water. Other minor advantages will also follow. For years the town has been unable to maintain an ice plant or laundry. Lack of clear pure water made the operation of such plants impossible. It only remains now for the business men of the community to establish these and place them at the service of the public. Both are greatly needed, and, again, if put into operation, will promote the healthfulness of the entire community.

THE DEBATING UNION WILL DISCUSS SHIP SUBSIDIES

The query which will be discussed by the High School Debating Union this year will be: "Resolved, That the United States should adopt the policy of subsidizing its merchant marine engaged in foreign trade." The discussion of this question comes at a peculiarly appropriate time because of the fact that the European war has focused the attention of the country upon foreign trade prospects and the need and possibilities of an effective American merchant marine. It is thought that interest throughout the State in the debates will be wide-spread and general.

The method of procedure for the debates will be much the same as that for the past two years. Every school of secondary nature in the State is eligible to enter the Union. Every school that enters will be grouped with two others for a triangular debate, each school putting out two teams, one on the affirmative and the other on the negative. Every school which wins both debates will be entitled to send both teams to Chapel Hill to contest for the State championship and the Aycock Memorial Cup. The triangular debates will be held throughout the State the latter part of March, and the final contest at Chapel Hill early in April.

TWENTY-TWO LAW STUDENTS RECEIVE THEIR LICENSE

Twenty-two men from the University Law School were successful candidates for license to practice law before the State Supreme Court at its sitting in August. The list follows:

Carlisle W. Higgins is a lawyer at Sparta, a partner of Hon. R. A. Doughton; Claude E. Teague is superintendent of the Ashboro public schools; B. F. Britain is practicing with his father in Ashboro, the firm name being Britain & Britain; Fitzroy D. Phillips has located at Laurinburg; Wilkins P. Horton is a lawyer at Pittsboro; Albert D. Parker has located in Asheville; John H. Norwood has located at Norwood; Miss Julia McGhee Alexander is practicing in Charlotte; Henry A. Tolson is a lawyer in Goldsboro; S. M. Gattis, Jr., is practicing with his father, Solicitor S. M. Gattis, at Hillsboro; Geo. V. Strong is teaching in the Wilmington high school; Hoyt Roberson is an attorney at Pollokville; Byron Vance Henry is back in the University taking further law and graduate work; James McB. Williams has located in Charlotte; Wm. T. Brothers at last reports had not decided on his location; Kenneth McK. Farnior is an attorney at Newbern; Jas. DeLeon M. Hill is a lawyer in Wilson; G. S. Glasgow located in Charlotte; A. G. Roberson is practicing in Charlotte; A. D. Folger has located at Mt. Airy; T. C. Guthrie, Jr., has located in Charlotte; Tom Gilman is at Jacksonville.

The registration in the law school has reached 79 to date. This is a considerable increase over the registration this time last year. Of this number several will receive the degree of LL. B. next commencement.

CAROLINA MEN PASS THE MEDICAL BOARD

Twenty-four young doctors who took the first two years of their course in the medical school of the University were successful applicants for license to practice medicine in this State before the board of medical examiners at its meeting in Raleigh last June. These were:

Charles W. Armstrong, Troy; Ralph H. Baynes, Hurdles Mills; W. D. R. Brandon, Statesville; W. P. Belk, Charlotte; Eugene R. Cocke, Asheville; Clair C. Henderson, Lowell; Joe A. Hartsell, Concord; Marcus C. Houser, Cherryville; Jack H. Harris, Raleigh; Wm. H. Kibler, Morganton; John F. Kendrick, Charlotte; Adlai S. Oliver, Selma; Karl B. Pace, Maxton; Paul A. Petree, Germantown; Robert E. Parrish, Smithfield; N. F. Rodman, Norfolk, Va.; David B. Sloan, Ingold; Charles E. Spoon, Himesville; Sheldon A. Saunders, Aulander; Lee F. Turlington, Mt. Airy; Thaddeus E. Wilkerson, Roxboro; Andrew J. Warren, Hurdles Mills; George L. Withers, Davidson; J. B. Walker, Union Ridge.

Of particular interest is the fact that Thaddeus E. Wilkerson, of Roxboro, won first honors in the examination, and Paul A. Petree, of Germantown, tied for second place. Among the six men who received honorable mention were Jack H. Harris, of Raleigh, and Adali S. Oliver, of Selma.

J. M. Venable passed the State Board of Virginia.

The high standing of these twenty-four young physicians is a splendid attest, if such were needed, to the excellent preparation given at the University to students preparing for the medical profession. It is pleasing to see the medical school growing rapidly. This year 54 students have enrolled in the first year class, and 26 in the second year class.

WHAT THE PHARMACISTS ARE DOING

Twelve men from the Carolina School of Pharmacy passed the examination in June and are now registered pharmacists in different parts of the State.

Kenneth A. Kirby is manager of the drug firm of Kirby and Walker, of Marion; W. Jernigan is with the Eubanks Drug Company, of Chapel Hill; Joseph F. Hoffman, Jr., is with the Lutz Pharmacy, of Hickory; D. T. Briles is with Horne's Drug Store, of Fayetteville; R. H. Andrews is taking the third year course in Pharmacy leading to the degree of P. D. in the University; W. N. Allen holds the assistant's place in the Pharmacy department and takes the second year course leading to the degree of Ph. G.; Roger A. McDuffie is also taking the second year course leading to the degree of Ph. G.; Calvin B. Morrisette is with the City Drug Store at Elizabeth City; L. B. Grantham has been until recently with the Williams Pharmacy, of Goldsboro; J. E. Lytch is managing a drug store at Rowland; W. A. McDaniel is in the drug business at Spring Hope; E. H. Ward is a traveling salesman for a drug firm in Richmond.

FACULTY COMMITTEE

In accord with an announcement made by President Graham at the first meeting of the faculty, two new committees were elected at the second meeting in September to be known as the Advisory and Executive Committees respectively. The Advisory Committee, consisting of five members, is to aid the president in the development of plans and policies for the University. It is to meet only occasionally and will have nothing to do with discipline.

The Executive Committee is to be what its name signifies—an executive committee to see that the various rules and regulations of the University are carried out. It will have charge of discipline and the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts, Mr. Stacy, is to be its chairman.

As a result of the election the following members of the faculty were chosen for service for the year:

Advisory Committee: Deans M. H. Stacy and L. P. McGehee and Drs. H. V. Wilson, W. C. Coker, and George Howe.

Executive Committee: Deans M. H. Stacy and A. H. Patterson and Drs. H. M. Wagstaff and C. W. Bain.

These two committees replace what in recent years has been known as the Executive Committee and relieve President Graham from direct supervision of matters of student conduct.

NINETEEN ELEVEN STARTED THE MOVEMENT!

EDITOR ALUMNI REVIEW:

SIR:—I notice that the last ALUMNI REVIEW referred to the fact that the Classes of 1910, 1912, 1913 and 1914 had decided, as their gifts to the University, to contribute toward a new Athletic Field. The Class of 1911 was left out. As a member of that Class who knows whereof he speaks, I beg to advise that we not only decided to make this use of our gift money, but under the inspiration of Mr. Chas. Woollen started the movement. There may be some who would like to contest the latter part of that statement. If so, they may have the privilege of meeting Rube Oliver, G. W. Thompson and C. L. Williams anywhere, naming their own weapons. There also may be some who will claim that the members of the largest Class that ever graduated from the University are not paying the notes in favor of the Athletic Field which they signed and, therefore, are not worth considering. To those I will say that I am almost sure that I have paid one of mine. However, I do not think that anyone will say that our Class did not solemnly resolve to give all the money our Treasurer could collect to our Alma Mater for the purpose of helping her to have a better Athletic Field. Until we fall down on the job, we think we deserve to be mentioned with the others.

I congratulate you on the success you have made of THE REVIEW. It is very interesting and is doing a great deal of good.

With best wishes, I am

Respectfully yours,

JOHN TILLET, '11.

Charlotte, N. C., September 22, 1914.

Dr. J. F. Royster taught English in the University of Minnesota Summer School.

Dr. C. S. Mangum was resident physician at the Kanuga Club, Hendersonville.

THE NORTH CAROLINA CLUB ORGANIZES

The North Carolina Club was organized on Friday evening, September 25th, in Gerrard Hall. Prof. E. C. Branson was elected president of the Club and Mr. Frank P. Graham secretary. A large and interested crowd of students and members of the faculty was present at this meeting.

The North Carolina Club is the central body of the various county clubs of the University. It is the forum for various definite discussions and fact gatherings as to North Carolina's economic and social resources and needs. It is a pioneer club among American universities, working in a field of intense human interest, fingering the mud-sill facts of the life of the people of the State.

Prof. Branson's idea of "Know Your Own Home County" is spreading rapidly until soon it will have permeated through the entire student body of the University out into every corner and section of the State.

The steering committee of the club consists of Dr. J. G. de Roullhae Hamilton, professor of history; George Eutsler, Greensboro; J. A. Capps, Bessemer City; L. Bruce Gunter, Wake County; Francis Bradshaw, Hillsboro. The promotion and publicity committee consists of W. P. Fuller, Florida; S. R. Winters, Granville County; Fred R. Yoder, Catawba County; Hugh Hester, Granville County.

Thirteen of the county clubs of the University have already organized for this year's work: Beaufort, Buncombe, Burke, Catawba, Cleveland, Gaston, Granville, Iredell, Johnston, Pender, Rowan, Sampson, Wayne. Other county clubs will organize within the next few days.

THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY ESTABLISHES A SERVICE BUREAU

The University has added another public service feature of distinct merit. This is the establishment of a bureau of employment for the benefit of drug store proprietors and pharmacists throughout the State. This bureau is under the direction of the School of Pharmacy and is in charge of Mr. J. G. Beard, assistant professor of pharmacy.

This movement on the part of the University was heartily endorsed by the North Carolina Pharmaceutical Association at its last convention. Anyone desiring the services of this bureau should address the Bureau of Employment, School of Pharmacy, Chapel Hill, and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. No fee is charged for any service rendered by the bureau.

SUMMER ACTIVITIES OF THE FACULTY

During the past summer members of the University faculty, as in previous years, were occupied in study, research, and educational work at the Hill and at various other places.

Professors Walker, Chase, L. R. Wilson, L. A. Williams, Howe, Bain, Bernard, Stacy, T. J. Wilson, Jr., Chrisler, Bell, Cobb, Coker, Patterson, Booker, Smith, Toy, Noble, and Pratt were members of the faculty of the University Summer School.

Prof. E. C. Branson taught in the University Summer School and in Peabody College for Teachers, at Nashville, Tenn.

Professors McGhee and McIntosh and Mr. R. G. Stockton, of Winston-Salem, taught in the University Summer Law School.

Professor G. M. McKie did special work in Public Speaking at the Harvard Summer School.

Dr. H. V. Wilson spent the summer at Beaufort at work in the Government Marine Laboratory.

Dr. A. S. Wheeler was engaged in work at Harvard in the chemistry department.

Prof. Norman Forester spent the summer at the University of Wisconsin, engaged in work upon a series of literary essays on James Russell Lowell.

Dr. H. M. Dargan spent the summer at Harvard and the University of Chicago.

Prof. T. F. Hickerson spent the summer in western North Carolina working for the Hutchison Water Wheel Company, of Pittsburgh.

Prof. Z. V. Judd was engaged in the direction of the work of the Wake County Schools, of which he is superintendent.

Dr. J. B. Bullitt carried on researches at Harvard Medical School.

Dr. K. J. Brown and Dr. O. P. Rhyne spent the summer in Germany.

Prof. Oliver Towles continued his studies in Paris.

PROFESSOR STACY IS MADE DEAN

Professor M. H. Stacy, in charge of the department of Applied Mathematics and Acting Dean of the College of Liberal Arts of the University in 1913-14, has been chosen to succeed himself permanently as Dean.

While this office has constantly grown in importance throughout the years, its responsibilities have been greatly added to for the present year by reason of the fact that it, in connection with the Executive Committee, is to have complete control of all the matters of discipline which come under the jurisdiction of the University.

THE ALUMNI REVIEW

To be issued monthly except in July, August, and September, by the General Alumni Association of the University of North Carolina.

Board of Publication

THE REVIEW is edited by the following Board of Publication:

Louis R. Wilson, '99.....Editor

Associate Editors: Walter Murphy, '92; Harry Howell, '95;
Archibald Henderson, '98; W. S. Bernard, '00; J. K.
Wilson, '05; Louis Graves, '02; F. P. Graham, '09; Kenneth Tanner, '11.

E. R. Rankin, '13.....Managing Editor

Subscription Price

Single Copies$0.15
Per Year 1.00

Communications intended for the Editor should be sent to Chapel Hill, N. C.; for the Managing Editor, to Chapel Hill, N. C. All communications intended for publication must be accompanied with signatures if they are to receive consideration.

OFFICE OF PUBLICATION, CHAPEL HILL, N. C.

Entered at the Postoffice at Chapel Hill, N. C., as second class matter.

THE UNIVERSITY IN LETTERS

HAMILTON, J. G. DE ROULIAC—"Reconstruction in North Carolina." Pp. 683. Longmans, Green & Co., 1914.

This volume is published as one of the series of the Columbia University Studies in History, Economics and Public Law. The work was begun more than ten years ago and six chapters were published as the author's doctoral dissertation in Columbia University. Since then one chapter has appeared in the Sewanee Review, and one and part of another in the South Atlantic Quarterly. Other chapters have since been added so that the completed work covers the entire period of Reconstruction to its close in 1876.

The work was undertaken and carried to completion in the face of obstacles that at times seemed unsurmountable, and is a monument to the author's energy, determination and enthusiasm. The result of his labors more than justifies his efforts. It is a work considered both from an historical and literary point of view that fixes the author's place among the ablest of the younger generation of American historians.

The difficulties were great; indeed, I know of no other subject or period in North Carolina history comparable to it in difficulties, snares and discouragements.

It was a virgin field in which no other historian had even blazed a trail. The material necessary for the investigation was composed largely of manuscript sources, numbered by the thousands, unassorted, unclassified and widely scattered. These had to be carefully studied, annotated and digested. The period under investigation was one which had given rise to the bitterest prejudices and passions in our history. Many of the actors are still living. The results of their conduct are yet keenly felt in the daily affairs of the State and her people. The actors and their actions have not yet passed so far into history that they can be viewed with the calm, impartial attitude which is the historical ideal. Pitfalls, frequently concealed, beset the investigator on every side. To say that Dr. Hamilton has plowed his way faithfully through this mass of unorganized material, that he has steered remarkably clear of the snares that beset his pathway, that he has recorded the truth without bias, and that he has written his story interestingly in a style that is clear, simple, direct, and remarkably free from faults, is to say only what justice demands and what every careful and unprejudiced reader of his book will endorse.

This does not mean that every reader will concur in all of the author's conclusions. It does mean that every impartial reader will give his conclusions and judgments the very great weight to which a thorough knowledge of his subject and an evidently earnest search for truth entitle them. Among the most important and interesting of his conclusions are the following: the "crime of Reconstruction" has caused many Southerners to fail to comprehend the benefits that have come from emancipation; it has kept the sections of our country apart when, with the barrier of slavery removed, they should have come together; and but for it thousands of the "old line Union Whigs" in North Carolina would have joined the Republican party in 1865 and thus have prevented the evolution of the "Solid South." Two legacies of Reconstruction are first, a Constitution "never suited to the needs of the State and, in spite of amendments, less so as the years go by;" and secondly, "a strong dislike of all Northern interference in Southern affairs which has produced a States' Rights sentiment that is scarcely less intense than that invoked in the defense of slavery."

On the whole the work is a fair, candid and impartial treatment of a subject that heretofore has always been discussed with bitterness, passion and prejudice; and if the author's judgment happens to fall on the side that the best thought of the whole Nation has already condemned, it is not because he held a brief against that side but because the facts upon which his judgment is based admit of no other conclusion.

R. D. W. CONNOR.

Raleigh, October 1, 1914.

JOHNSTON, CHARLES H., and Others.—“The Modern High School: Its Administration and Extension.” Pp. XVIII-847. Scribner, 1914. $1.50.

This volume is the second of a series of three projected by Dr. Johnston treating rather comprehensively the major divisions of the field of secondary education. The first volume, “High School Education,” published by Scribner in 1912, deals with the problems of class instruction in the various high school branches and with certain technical phases of administration closely related to these problems. The third volume, now under way, promises “to deal strictly and sympathetically with the clearly distinct problems of high school supervision (especially of class teaching.”) The present volume deals with the social and democratic relations of the high school and the specific adjustments which it is called upon to make in the light of the newer democratic conception of education. There are thirty chapters by twenty-seven different specialists, an appendix by the editor, and a most excellent bibliography of high school literature of sixty-eight pages. Dr. Johnston himself contributes the following chapters, “The Social Administration of the High School,” “The Improvement of High School Teachers in the Service as an Important Factor in the Social Administration of the High School,” and the appendix—“the Upward Extension of the High School.” These chapters are especially strong, as are those by such well known writers as Dr. David Snodden, Dr. C. A. Perry, Dr. C. O. Davis, Dr. W. C. Ruediger, and Dr. J. F. Hiose.

What the authors have tried to do is briefly set forth by the general editor. “This volume represents an attempt to make it easier to think naturally of the high school as the Temple of our Democracy, with its halls an art museum (Chapter XXVIII); its debating teams and supporting audiences real though miniature forums (Chapter XIX); its playground and athletic fields ethical as well as hygienic laboratories (Chapters XVII and XXVII); its classroom meetings where co-operative investigations, live discussions, and the application of knowledge to living are carried on as a matter of course (Chapters VIII, IX, and XI); and its student organizations the wholesome expression of the best organized student sentiment (Chapters XVI, XVII, and XVIII). That this is not a dream the reader has but to study with his normal imagination alert, the suggestions and doctrines which are contained in the following chapters.”

The book presents perhaps the strongest and ablest exposition of the newer movements and tendencies in the field of secondary education yet presented within the compass of a single volume. It is true that some of the positions taken by the different collaborators have not yet been sufficiently demonstrated in practice to warrant their acceptance generally by school boards and the public, yet the position taken by each writer is accepted with practical unanimity by the best thinkers and writers on educational subjects of today. Here is, indeed, a strong, ably written, scholarly book that takes its place at once as one of the standard works on the American secondary school.

N. W. W.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL CHORUS DRAWS MANY VISITORS

“It was the pleasure of the writer to spend Monday night of last week at the University of North Carolina. Many notable improvements have been made since our last visit several years ago. One cannot walk through the vast campus, with its noble oaks, its splendid buildings and classic atmosphere, charged with achievement for the State running well over a hundred years, and not be thrilled with pride and gratitude for what this great institution has done for North Carolina. The Summer School, which has been notably successful this year, was drawing to a close. Five hundred teachers from the various sections of the State were present, and must have returned to their homes with higher purpose and inspiration. One of the most practical and useful features of the Summer School is the school of music under the direction of Prof. Gustav Hagedorn, of Meredith College, who teaches what he calls “public school music,” somewhat after the fashion of the old time singing school teacher now unhappily vanished. In addition, Prof. Hagedorn, who is a master in organizing choruses, assembles from 50 to 60 voices and toward the close of the session gives high class concerts. We were drawn to Chapel Hill by the concert of Monday July 20, and we have rarely been so completely charmed and uplifted.—Archibald Johnson, in Charity and Children.

INTERCOLLEGIATE LECTURES ARRANGED

The lecture committee of the University announces a new series of lectures for the present year to be given by the Universities of Virginia, North Carolina,

South Carolina, and Vanderbilt University. The purposes of the lectures are to promote scholarship; to present, in concrete form, recent advances in some special branch of learning; and to bring the institutions concerned into closer relationship, through exchange of ideas in regard to all vital problems affecting a modern university.

The plan of exchange contemplated will be somewhat like that of a triangular debate, except that each university will send out only one lecturer each year instead of two, and will exchange with a different institution annually.

This year, the first of the series, South Carolina will send a lecturer to Vanderbilt, Vanderbilt will send one to Virginia, Virginia one to North Carolina, and North Carolina one to South Carolina. The period of the course will be one week. Dr. F. P. Venable has been chosen as the lecturer from the University to South Carolina, and Professor William M. Thornton, Dean of the School of Engineering of Virginia, will lecture in Chapel Hill. The date of the periods will be announced later.

FRATERNITY INITIATIONS

The fraternity initiations of this fall were of the usual interesting order. Many alumni returned and paid visits to the local chapters of their fraternities. The men initiated were:

Beta of Delta Kappa Epsilon—James Graham Ramsay '17, Salisbury, N. C. Visitors were—George Wood, Hampden Hill, Charles Venable, Gus Zollieffer, Tom O'Berry, K. C. Royall, W. L. Thorp, Bennett Perry, Peyton Smith, Manning Venable, Thomas Horne.

Eta Beta of Beta Theta Pi—C. A. Thompson '17, Goldsboro; F. C. Jordan '17, Greensboro; W. G. Taylor '17, Greensboro. Visitor was W. A. Julian (Davidson).

Xi of Sigma Alpha Epsilon—Marshall Williams '16, Faison; Farrar Parker '17, Asheville; George Shuford '17, Asheville; Allen Williamson '17, Asheville. Visitors were—Will Tillett, Lenoir Chambers.

Upsilon of Zeta Psi—W. T. Polk '17, Warrenton; F. B. Shipp '17, Raleigh. Visitors were—W. A. Graham, Banks Mebane, John Hall Manning, Wm. Joyner, Jim Manning, Adolphus Mangum.

Alpha Delta of Alpha Tau Omega—A. S. Nelson, Lenoir; Hugh Smith, South Carolina. Visitor was Summer Burgwyn.

Upsilon of Kappa Alpha—F. D. Shamburger '17, Biscoe; F. C. Bourne '17, Asheville; Wilson Dalton '17, Winston-Salem; P. F. Smith '17, Raleigh; William Capehart '16, Roxobel; Charlie Daniel, Weldon. Affiliate, Edward Borden, Goldsboro. Visitors were—Messrs. Dodson, Page, Spears, Riddick, Wheeler, Meisenheimer, White, Browfoot, Hinton, all of A. & M.; Kennon Borden, P. A. Bennett, W. C. Thompson, H. C. Long, Jr., R. H. Long.

Beta of Phi Delta Theta—E. S. Hartshorn '17, Asheville; W. C. Wright '17, Winston-Salem; William Monroe '17, Wilmington. Visitors were—Harvey Wadsworth, Claude Tyson, Tom Gilman, Blake Applewhite.

Psi of Sigma Nu—Robert Davis '17, Wilmington; T. W. Strange '17, Wilmington; William Hambley, Salisbury; George Slover '17, New Bern; Enoch Simmons, Washington, N. C.; John Wilson '17, Greensboro. Visitors were—W. C. Lord, R. W. Cantwell, J. L. Wright, Pete Murphy, Dick Eames, Littleton Hambley, James Milliken, and Messrs. Smith and Constable of A. & M.

Alpha Tau of Sigma Chi—W. P. M. Weeks '15, Washington, D. C.; Seymour Whiting '14, Raleigh; Aubrey Elliott '16, Columbia, S. C. Visitors were—O. B. Bonner, S. I. Parker, George Mason, and Messrs. Miller, Sykes, Gibbs, and Mayes of Trinity.

Tau of Pi Kappa Alpha—Ray Toxey '17, Elizabeth City; R. N. Mann, High Point. Affiliate, Watt Martin of A. & M. Visitors were—Joe Boushall, J. H. Boushall, N. S. Vann, Mr. Parks; G. A. Warlick, Frank Smith, Raymond Smith, F. N. Patton, Luther Ferrell, Paul Neal, all of Trinity.

Alpha Nu of Kappa Sigma—Floyd Wooten '17, Kinston; John Bright Hill, '17, Warsaw; Henry L. Stevens '17, Warsaw; William R. Allen, Jr., '17, Goldsboro; Joseph H. Hardison '17, Fayetteville; Frank E. Allred '17, Aberdeen; George Pou, Smithfield; George W. Craig, Raleigh. Visitors were—Gaston Dortch, L. P. McLendon, Steve Simmons, Alley Whitaker, (Trinity).

PROFESSOR JAMES MARRIES

Cards were received in Chapel Hill in August announcing the marriage, at Oswego, N. Y., on the 15th, of Prof. Robert Lane James and Miss Elizabeth Cole Johnson. Prof. James is in charge of the department of drawing and has been connected with the University since 1913.

COPIES OF THE REVIEW WANTED

Requests for complete files of THE REVIEW can not be filled because numbers 1, 2, and 3 of volume one can not be supplied. If any subscriber has copies of these numbers and is not attempting to keep a file, THE REVIEW will be most glad to receive them.

THE SCHOOL OF PHARMACY PILES UP A BIG ENROLLMENT

Fifty-three men have registered for the Pharmacy course to date. This is an increase of nine over last year's enrollment.

Another evidence of the growth of the department is the fact that a third year has been added to the course, thus enabling the department to grant the degree of doctor of pharmacy. Four men are candidates for this degree this year: J. G. Beard, of Chapel Hill; R. H. Andrews, of Chapel Hill; S. B. Higgins, of Leicester; and T. J. Andrews, of Durham.

This course consists for the most part of advanced work in chemistry and in manufacturing pharmacy and is intended to prepare students for positions as pharmacognocists, food and drug inspectors, manufacturing pharmacists, chemists and teachers. The University is one of three institutions in the South to grant a degree of this rank.

CAUGHT IN EUROPE

The return of Dr. O. P. Rhyne, of the department of German, who spent the summer in Germany, marked the arrival of the last of the members of the faculty who were caught abroad by the war during August. Dr. Rhyne was at Munich when the war broke out and found it impossible to return until the work of the University was under way. Dr. Kent J. Brown, also of the German department, and Dr. Oliver Towles, professor of Romance languages, were also delayed for several days, but not sufficiently long to interfere with their taking up their work at the beginning of the term.

A FALL DEBATE IS TO BE ARRANGED

The Debating Council of the University voted unanimously at a recent meeting to have an inter-collegiate debate this fall, provided suitable arrangements could be effected with some rival university. The secretary, Mr. J. F. Hackler, was instructed to correspond with the debating councils of Vanderbilt, Georgia, and Maryland universities in reference to the matter. Definite arrangements have not yet been perfected. This tentative debate is in addition to the triangular debate with Virginia and Johns Hopkins, which will be held next spring, as usual.

DR. ROYSTER LEAVES FOR TEXAS

After seven years of a splendid service in the University, Dr. J. F. Royster, formerly head of the department of English in the University, left on September 15th for the University of Texas where he becomes professor of the English language and literature. Dr. Royster's successor as the head of the department of English is Dr. E. A. Greenlaw, a member of the department last year and for a number of years professor of English in Adelphi College, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE COUNCIL ORGANIZES

The University Council, as organized this year, consists of George W. Eutsler, president; McDaniel Lewis, secretary; E. L. Mackie, representative of the sophomore class; B. C. Trotter, representative from the law school; G. C. Singletary, representative from the medical class; Roger McDuffie, representative from the pharmacy school; A. R. Newsome, representative from the student body; and W. P. Fuller, the member elected by the council.

MARS HILL SENDS BIG DELEGATION

Mars Hill College, one of the most widely known and largely attended preparatory schools in western North Carolina, this year has sent thirteen freshmen to the University. Among this number are some of the best equipped men in the first year class. Including upper-classmen, the total Mars Hill delegation in the University now numbers twenty, or more.

THE SATYRS INITIATE

John Calhoun Busby, '13, now of the Harvard Law School, was recently initiated into the dramatic order of the Satyrs. He was business manager of the dramatic club in his senior year and a member of the famous cast which presented "What Happened to Jones."

DR. LAWSON REMAINS

THE REVIEW finds pleasure in being able to correct a statement made by it in the June number announcing the going of Dr. R. B. Lawson to State College, Pennsylvania. Dr. Lawson will continue his work for the University.

PRESIDENT GRAHAM RECEIVES HONORARY DEGREE

At the recent commencement of the University of the South the degree of Doctor of Civil Law was conferred upon President Graham.

On September 18th the Odd Number chapter of Sigma Upsilon, the national literary fraternity, initiated as an honorary member Dr. Edwin Greenlaw of the English department and as regular members W. T. Polk, '17, Warrenton, and McDaniel Lewis, '16, of Kinston.

THE GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION of the

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA

Officers of the Association

Julian S. Carr, '66.....President
Walter Murphy, '92.....Secretary

THE ALUMNI

E. R. RANKIN '13, Alumni Editor

MEDICAL ALUMNI ORGANIZE

A permanent organization of the alumni of the medical department of the University of North Carolina was effected at a banquet at the Hotel Giersch in Raleigh last June 16th. It was decided to hold yearly banquets at the annual meetings of the State Medical Society.

Dr. C. O. Abernathy presided over this meeting as toastmaster. Those speaking were: Dr. H. A. Royster, of Raleigh; Dr. John Ferrell, of Washington; Dr. W. W. Green, of Tarboro; Dr. A. W. Knox, of Raleigh; Dr. H. McK. Tucker, of Raleigh; Dr. W. W. Moncure; Dr. James McGeachy; and Dr. I. H. Manning, of Chapel Hill, dean of the Medical Department.

The officers elected for the association were:

President, Dr. C. O. Abernathy, of Raleigh; Secretary, Dr. E. M. McIver, of Jonesboro; Treasurer, Dr. J. A. Strickland, of Wendell.

THE CLASSES

1842

—Major Francis Theodore Bryan is the oldest living graduate of the University. He is also the oldest living graduate of West Point Military Academy, class of '46, and the oldest veteran of the Mexican War. He lives in St. Louis.

1857

—Franklin Smith Wilkinson lives at Rocky Mount. For a long period of years he has been actively engaged in teaching. At one time he was a member of the board of trustees of the University.

—George Lewis Wimberly lives on his plantation near Battleboro, N. C. He has been engaged in farming all of his life and has made a success. He is interested in all the activities of the present-day University.

—It is a fact worthy of note that while in the University Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Wimberly were roommates, and that in later years a son of Mr. Wilkinson, W. S. Wilkinson, '89, married a daughter of Mr. Wimberly. W. S. Wilkinson, Jr., '16, is now a student of the University.

1860

—John Houston Thorpe lives at Rocky Mount. Shortly after his graduation in 1860, he threw in his lot with the Confederate Army. He won distinction for bravery at Bethel, the first battle, and saw very active service all during the war through Appomattox. He was captain of Company A, 47th N. C. regiment, Pettigrew's brigade, Heth's division, A. P. Hill's corps, Army of Northern Virginia. Since the war he has seen a different though hardly less strenuous service as a lawyer, planter, and member of the General Assembly.

1865

—The fifty year reunion of the class of 1865 will be held during the commencement of 1915.

—Henry A. London is a newspaper editor of Pittsboro, well known throughout the State. His paper is the Chatham Record.

—John S. Henderson is a leading lawyer and citizen of Salisbury.

1868

—William D. Horner teaches a private school at Henderson.

1870

—Hannis Taylor, former minister to Spain and an authority on international law, has had the degree of LL. D. conferred upon him by nine different Universities in the United States and Europe. In this matter he stands one higher than ex-President Chas. W. Eliot, of Harvard, and one lower than President Woodrow Wilson.

1880

—Alexander Lacy Phillips, A. B., '80 and D. D. '95, is general superintendent of Sunday Schools for the Southern Presbyterian Church. His address is 112 S. 4th. St., Richmond, Virginia.

1881

—J. Alton McIver is Clerk of the Superior Court of Moore County, at Carthage. When seen by the Alumni Editor during the summer, he talked interestingly of times at the University in the early eighties.

—Dr. A. A. Kent, of Lenoir, has been nominated for the legislature by the Democrats of his county.

1882

—President Edwin A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia, and Mrs. Alderman, with their boy and nurse, are at St. Meritz, Switzerland, and have been unable so far to return to America.

1883

—Rufus A. Doughton, of Sparta, former speaker of the house of representatives and lieutenant governor of the State, has been renominated for the legislature by the Democrats of Alleghany County.

—Dr. John L. Phillips has been appointed Director of the Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, D. C.

—Dr. Geo. L. Wimberly, Jr., is a physician and prominent citizen of Rocky Mount.

1884

—Dr. E. C. Register, of Charlotte, was recently elected president of the Tri-State Medical Society, the Society including the States of North Carolina, South Carolina, and Virginia.

—Ellison L. Gilmer is a captain in the United States Army and is stationed at Fort Caswell, N. C.

—A. J. Harris is a lawyer of Henderson, and a farmer on the side.

1886

—Rev. N. H. D. Wilson is pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church at Goldsboro. He is an active alumnus, interested in the University's success in every line.

—W. H. Carroll is a leading attorney of Burlington.

—Rev. M. McG. Shields is superintendent of the Presbyterian synodical home missions for the state of Georgia. His address is 350 N. Boulevard, Atlanta. For a period of years he was engaged in similar work in North Carolina, and previous to that was pastor of Presbyterian churches at Gas-tonia, N. C., and Norfolk, Virginia.

1887

—W. H. McNeill is a lawyer, dewberry dealer, and general farmer at Carthage. He attended the 25 year reunion of his class during the commencement of 1912.

—W. S. Wilkinson is manager of the Wilkinson-Bullock Company, insurance and real estate, of Rocky Mount.

1888

—William M. Little, formerly United States Consul at Tegucigalpa, is now practicing law in Birmingham, Ala.

1889

—A. A. F. Seawell, of Sanford, is the Democratic candidate for the legislature from Lee County. He has represented his county for the past several years in the legislature, and is being very prominently mentioned as Speaker of the next House.

—J. E. B. Davis is merchandising at Pikeville, N. C.

—T. Lake Moore, formerly a banker of Muskogee, Okla., now lives in Gulfport, Miss.

1890

—The twenty-five year reunion of the class of 1890 will be held at Chapel Hill during the next commencement. It is hoped that such a crowd will attend as will smash all previous records for such reunions.

—John Wooten Graham is a well known wholesale dealer and banker of Aberdeen. He plans to return for the class reunion next commencement.

—Dr. J. J. Phillips is a leading physician of Tarboro. He is president of the Edgecombe Medical Society, and first vice-president of the North Carolina Medical Society. For a number of years after graduation he was connected with hospitals in New York City. Returning to Tarboro in 1904, he has been actively engaged in practice there since.

—Rev. G. V. Tilley is pastor of the First Baptist Church at Concord, N. C.

—J. T. Bennett is practicing law at Rockingham, N. C.

—Jas. C. Braswell is prominent in the banking business at Rocky Mount, N. C.

—Henry Johnston, winner of the Mangum Medal for oratory, in his senior year, is a farmer on a large scale at Tarboro.

1891

—Reuben Campbell has retired from the United States Navy in which he was a surgeon and is now practicing medicine in Statesville.

—James Jerry Slade is engaged in railroad construction and supply business in Mexico, near Mexico City.

—John Gray Blount is located at Washington, N. C. and enjoys a large practice as a physician and surgeon.

—R. G. Vaughan is a well-known banker in Greensboro, N. C.

—J. Spottiswoode Taylor is a surgeon in the United States Navy.

—P. C. Graham is recorder of the City Court at Durham, N. C.

—N. A. Currie is farming and merchandising at Clarkton, N. C.

—Geo. E. Ransom is a prominent farmer of Weldon.

1892

—Felix Harvey is one of the leading spirits of the growing town of Kinston, N. C.

—F. L. Wilcox, one time University Librarian, is a leading lawyer in Florence, S. C.

—S. L. Davis is a large furniture manufacturer at High Point.

—Frank M. Clarke is practicing medicine at Beaufort, N. C.

—A. H. Caldwell is superintendent of the Transylvania division of the Southern Railway, at Brevard, N. C.

—R. F. Yarborough is practicing medicine at Louisburg, N. C.

—F. H. Beall is located at Ridgeway, S. C., where he has charge of an extensive hunting preserve.

—U. L. Spence practices law at Carthage and is one of the leading attorneys of his section.

—Frank C. Mebane is a lawyer in New York City. He is chairman of the entertainment Committee of the North Carolina Society of New York.

1893

—F. C. Harding, a successful lawyer and loyal alumnus of Greenville, is the Democratic nominee for State Senator from Pitt County.

—John A. Gilmer is in the insurance business in Greensboro.

—Rev. Howard A. Rondthaler is president of the Salem Female College, Winston-Salem, N. C.

—C. O. McMichael, of Reidsville and Wentworth, is the nominee of the Democratic party for the State Senate from Rockingham County. He has a son in the University this year, Earl McMichael, '18.

—R. L. Burns, Law, '93, is a prominent attorney of Carthage. He is also an alumnus of Wake Forest College, and he was center rush on the Wake Forest eleven at the same time that Walter Murphy, '92, was center rush for the University eleven.

1894

—At the annual meeting of the North Carolina Society of New York, held on May 20th last, Lindsay Russell, Law, '94, was elected president for the ensuing year. Mr. Russell is a lawyer with offices at 165 Broadway.

—Benjamin Wyche is successful in the life insurance business at Greensboro.

1895

—The twenty-year reunion of the class of 1895 will be held during the commencement of 1915. The opinion of all '95 men seen by the alumni editor during the summer was that every member of their class should be on the Hill at the proper time, ready to answer to his name on the class roll.

—D. K. McRae, of Laurinburg, secretary of his class during its senior year, is anxious for a large attendance at the reunion, and would be glad to hear from any member of the class in regard to it.

—Fred L. Carr is a large farmer of Wilson.

—A. B. Kimball is a member of the well-known law firm of King and Kimball, of Greensboro.

—Harry Howell, superintendent of the Asheville City Schools, becomes an associate editor of the ALUMNI REVIEW.

—W. L. Scott is manager of the credit department of the North Carolina Public Service Co., at Greensboro.

1896

—Theodore West is in the lumber business at Dallas, Texas.

—Robert Harris, Jr., is a large tobacco manufacturer of Reidsville. He is a member of the firm of Robert Harris and Bro., Inc.

—Dr. R. H. Garren is a practicing physician of Bessemer City, N. C., and a loyal member of the Gaston County alumni association.

—Charles R. Emry is a large farmer and interested alumnus of Weldon, always glad to see a Carolina man.

1898

—Francis A. Gudger is Secretary of the North Carolina Society of New York City. He is a lawyer with offices at 725 Broadway.

—J. F. Webb is superintendent of schools for Granville County, at Oxford.

1899

J. E. LATTA, Secretary, 207 E. Ohio St., Chicago, Ill.

—W. Thomas Bost, formerly city editor of the Raleigh News and Observer, has accepted the position of representative of the Greensboro Daily News at Raleigh. During the summer he took a trip abroad but his stay was cut short because of the European war.

—Dr. F. W. Coker, a professor in the Ohio State University, has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Municipal League.

—R. G. S. Davis is treasurer for the E. G. Davis and Sons Company, merchants, of Henderson.

1900

W. S. BERNARD, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C.

—Ernest Neville is superintendent of the Monroe, Louisiana, public schools.

—T. J. Anderson is city ticket agent for the Southern Railway at Salisbury.

—Paul Heilig is located in Los Angeles, California. He is with Montgomery Bros., a large jewelry house.

1901

F. B. RANKIN, Secretary, Rutherfordton, N. C.

—Chas. P. Coble is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, at High Point.

—C. M. Muse, Law, '01, of Carthage, has been nominated for the State Senate by the Democrats of Moore County.

—J. S. Cook is engaged in the practice of law at Graham.

—D. L. St. Clair is helping Sanford grow as editor of the Sanford Express, one of the leading weeklies of the State.

1902

R. A. MERRITT, Secretary, Greensboro, N. C.

—Dr. J. W. McGehee is a physician of Reidsville. He is local surgeon for the Southern Railway.

—W. A. Blue is secretary and treasurer and general superintendent of the Aberdeen and Rockfish Railway, at Aberdeen.

—E. G. McIver, originally from Gulf, N. C., is superintendent of the Erwin Cotton Mills No. 4, at Durham.

1903

N. W. WALKER, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C.

—Miss Sue Hodge Dishman and Mr. Kenneth Gant were married on June seventeenth at the home of the bride in Henderson, Kentucky. They are living at Neuse, N. C., where Mr. Gant is engaged in the cotton mill business.

—H. E. Thrower is proprietor of the Paragon Drug Company, at Henderson.

—R. S. Gorham is proprietor of the Red Cross Pharmacy, at Rocky Mount.

1904

T. F. HICKERSON, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C.

—H. W. Winstead is in the tobacco and real estate business at Roxboro.

—Burton Smith is traveling representative in North Carolina and a part of Virginia for the General Electric Company. His headquarters are at Norfolk, Va.

—Dr. R. T. Upchurch is a prominent physician of Henderson.

—S. T. Peace is Cashier of the First National Bank of Henderson.

—Geo. C. Green is a leading lawyer and alumnus of Weldon.

1905

FRANK McLEAN, Secretary, Maxton, N. C.

—The ten year reunion of the class of 1905 promises to be well attended next commencement. The idea of class reunions is coming into tremendous favor at the University, and 1905 is expected to set a standard.

—K. B. Nixon is the Democratic nominee for the State Senate from his district. He is practicing law at Lincolnton, and is chairman of the county board of education.

—Irving Long is with the Cone Export and Commission Co., of Greensboro.

—R. G. Lassiter is in the engineering and contracting business at Oxford.

1906

JOHN A. PARKER, Secretary, Charlotte, N. C.

—W. J. Sherrod, Law, '06, is practicing law in Greensboro.

—Carter Dalton is a member of the law firm of Peacock and Dalton, High Point.

—Bennett H. Perry is a prominent attorney and alumnus at Henderson.

1907

C. L. WEIL, Secretary, Greensboro, N. C.

—Dr. G. B. Morris is practicing medicine at Mount Olive, N. C.

—W. R. Dalton is a successful lawyer at Reidsville, and is a trustee of the University —Dr. M. P. Cummings is practicing his profession, medicine, in Reidsville.

—K. R. Hoyle is a member of the law firm of Hoyle and Hoyle, at Sanford. Formerly he was editor of the Raleigh Evening Times.

1908

JAS. A. GRAY, JR., Secretary, Winston-Salem, N. C.

—G. T. Whitley is superintendent of the graded schools of Nashville, N. C. Formerly he was superintendent of the Clayton Schools.

—E. O. Randolph, assistant in Geology in the University in 1913-'14, goes to the College of Charleston, S. C., as acting Professor of Geology.

—Thomas L. Simmons is manager of the life department of the Rocky Mount Insurance and Realty Company. He is second vice-president of the Southern Life and Trust Co.'s $100,000 Club.

—Arthus M. Frazier, for a long time city ticket agent of the Southern Railway at Winston-Salem, has accepted a position with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company with headquarters in Salisbury for the present.

—John W. Hester is a lawyer and newspaper editor of Oxford. His paper is the Granville Enterprise.

—R. R. Herring is proprietor of the Rexall Drug Store at Oxford.

1909

O. C. COX, Secretary, Greensboro, N. C.

—Miss Rosa Naomi Scott of Knoxville, Tenn., has been awarded a prize of five hundred dollars for a short story which recently appeared in Collier's Weekly.

—Miss Carol Gray, and Mr. Elden Bayley were married at the home of the bride's parents in Raleigh on July 21st. They will make their home in Springfield, Ohio.

—Dr. R. H. Rowe, practices his profession, medicine, at Bessemer City, N. C.

—H. L. Perry is a lawyer and mayor of the city of Henderson.

1910

W. H. RAMSOUR, Secretary, 600 Lexington Ave., New York.
—The big five year reunion of the class of 1909 is over and the way is clear for 1910. That 1910 will foster and expand the idea driven home by 1909 is a fact not to be doubted for a moment. The secretary is now preparing material for a class bulletin, which will be issued soon.

—C. C. Garrett, formerly assistant to the superintendent of the Greensboro office of the Bradstreet Company, has been promoted to the superintendency of the Huntington, W. Va., office. "Icky" is a loyal alumnus and he carries the good wishes of many Carolina friends with him in his new territory.
—Eugene C. Barnhardt, Jr., is assistant secretary for the Gibson Mfg. Co., cotton manufacturers, of Concord.

—E. L. Pemberton, Jr., is with the firm of J. E. Latham and Co., cotton merchants of Greensboro.

—H. M. Gaddy, is with Brantley's drug store at Raleigh.

—A. M. McKoy is teller for the Murchison National Bank, of Wilmington.

—D. R. Kramer is superintendent of the Elizabeth City electric lighting system. He says that he will be on the Hill for the reunion next commencement.

1911

I. C. MOSER, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C.

—C. McS. Lee, Jr., formerly of Timmonsville, S. C., is cashier for the Massengal Sign Co., at Decatur, Ga.

—Alex L. Feild, formerly assistant chemist at the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station, West Raleigh, has been appointed junior physical chemist, Department of the Interior U. S. Bureau of Mines, located at Pittsburg, Pa. Mr. Feild received the degree of M. S. in chemistry at the N. C. A. and M. College this spring.

—W. I. Ward, Law, '11, is a lawyer and mayor of the town at Graham, N. C.

—J. G. Damson is taking law in the University.

1912

C. E. NORMAN, Secretary, Columbia, S. C.

—A. W. Graham, Jr., is taking second year law at the University.

—P. H. Gwynn, Jr., is principal of the North Durham grammar school, at Durham.

—James L. Orr is superintendent of public schools at Fort Myers, Florida.

—R. R. King, Jr., is a lawyer of Greensboro.

—C. K. Burgess is an attorney at law with offices in the Citizens' National Bank building at Raleigh. He is also president of the American Collection and Rating Bureau, Inc., a corporation recently organized in Raleigh.

—Luke Lamb is special agent for the United States department of justice with headquarters in the Federal Building, Atlanta, Ga.

—Claude E. Teague is superintendent of the Ashboro public schools. He received license to practice law at the Supreme Court examination in August.

1913

A. L. M. WIGGINS, Secretary, Hartsville, S. C.

—W. N. Post is taking graduate work in English at Harvard University. He is specializing in the drama. He was on the Hill for the opening.

—J. L. Phillips, formerly of Goldsboro, is now in the civil engineering business at Kinston, N. C.

—A. L. M. Wiggins was operated on for appendicitis in Durham last month. It is a pleasure to know that he has recovered satisfactorily.

—J. L. Roberts, Law, '13, of Reidsville, is the Democratic nominee for the lower house of the legislature from Rockingham County.

D

—J. B. Scarborough is an instructor in Mathematics at the State A. and M. College, West Raleigh, N. C.

1914

OSCAR LEACH, Secretary, Chapel Hill, N. C.

—Sixteen of last spring's graduates are back in the University taking graduate and professional work this year, and three members of the class who did not finish are back, making nineteen in all.

—Now is the time for every 1914 man to resolve to be on the Hill for the first reunion of his class next commencement.

—I. L. Abernethy is with the Southern Public Utilities Co., at Charlotte.

—Lewis Angel is principal of the Four Oaks high school.

—B. F. Aycock is taking law in the University.

—I. M. Bailey is principal of the Jacksonville high school.

—A. R. Brownson is assistant in Geology in the University.

—J. S. Cansler is studying law in the University

—D. H. Carlton is principal of the Macclesfield high school.

—Lenoir Chambers, Jr., teaches English and History at Woodberry Forest.

UNIVERSITY MEN SEEK POLITICAL HONORS

The following men, so far as can be ascertained from the press, have been nominated by the various parties for the Senate and House in the next General Assembly:

SENATE

W. B. Snow, '93, Wake; Harry Stubbs, '79, Martin; F. C. Harding, '93, Pitt; A. D. Ward, '85, Craven; J. R. Barbour, Law '04, Johnston; Charles O. McMichael, '93, Rockingham; C. L. Williams, '11, Lee; Curtis M. Muse, Law '00, Moore; R. N. McNeely, Law '10, Union; John A. McRae, '04, Mecklenburg; K. B. Nixon, '05, Lincoln; O. Max Gardner, Law '07, Cleveland; D. F. Giles, Law '02, McDowell; R. L. Ballou, Law '03, Ashe; W. R. Banguess, '10, Ashe; Zebulon Weaver, Law '04, Buncombe; D. S. Thompson, '01, Iredell; Mark Majette, '89, Tyrell.

HOUSE

Alleghany—R. A. Doughton, '83; Anson—F. E. Thomas, Law '09; Ashe—T. C. Bowie, '99; Caldwell—A. A. Kent, '81; Chatham—F. W. Bynum, '03; Davidson—Wade H. Phillips, Law '04; Forsyth—V. O. Roberson, '00; Gaston—H. D. George, Law '99; Guilford—N. L. Eure, Law '00; W. P. Ragan, '98; Halifax—W. L. Long, '09; Hoke—Thomas McBryde, '60; Lee—A. A. F. Seawell, '89; Lenoir—E. R. Wooten, Law '00; Mecklenburg—R. S. Hutchinson, '02, R. C. Freeman, Law '99; Nash—Jacob Battle, '95; New Hanover—W. P. Stacy, '08; Pasquotank—Walter L. Small, '11; Pitt—James C. Gallo-way, '07; Rockingham—J. L. Roberts, '14; Union—J. C. M. Vann, '10; Rowan—W. C. Coughenour, '07; Harnett—Charles Ross, '05; Wake—Clyde Douglas, Law '11.

HENRY WEIL, TRUSTEE

Mr. Henry Weil, senior member of the firm of H. Weil & Brothers of Goldsboro, died at the Johns Hopkins Hospital,

